

UT JC HOLDS 12TH COMMENCEMENT

HIGGS

Editorially
Speaking On—

The nicleodeon was playing "I've Got a Pocket Full of Deams." Summer was over but it certainly wasn't winter. There were Freshmen and Sophomores; some with just a little more experience than the rest. You were there—dancing with strange people and a few you knew; learning new names, which you knew very well you wouldn't remember. That's how it began. But now it is over—Praise Be!

Now—about sundown you find yourself looking at your annual, at the autographs of your friends—friends you have made in less than two years—friends who have given you gifts that are priceless—Their friendship. That's the only thing you hate about leaving. You won't be able to be with those friends you have grown to like so well. But that is all. You are plenty tired of dry lectures, unexpected and unreasonable quizzes and most of all nothing to do for pastime—this is the "darndest town. But you won't have to put up with it any longer Goody Gumdrops! You think of something that happened just today. Someone said: "I guess you feel like a million now that school is out." You laughed and said, "Right—Like Shouting!" You will shout too (next time you go to a Holy-Roiy meeting). Right now you guess you are tired. After all, you've just finished final exams—Thank heaven!

You have finished look at your annual; you put it down and walk to the window. The sky is beautiful—it must have been just such a sky that was the inspiration for that song, "When You Come To the End of a Perfect Day." There is purple and pink and a sort of gold-blue color. But all of a sudden it kinda mixes up and wiggles like waves and you see it now like you are looking through a bubble, your silly neck feels like you have rocks stuffed back at the end of your mouth. Then something damp and hot slides down your nose and trickles off your chin. Right now you guess you are tired. After all, you've just finished—

JOE BLACK HAYES

New assistant coach at U. T. Junior College was a big U. T. man. While at Knoxville he was football in 35, 36 and 37; track 36 and 37; wrestling 35, 36, 37; T Club, 35, 36, 37; president B.S.N., 38; Kappa Alpha, Scarabbean; U. T. All Students Club; athletic council 1938. Of the last, it is noteworthy that Hayes was one of two selected from the student body. He was captain of the football team in 1937. He is a member of the Baptist Church. His home is at Murfreesboro. Mr. Hayes will probably do some teaching in the agricultural department in addition to serving as assistant coach.

To the Student Body

With the close of the college year upon us, it seems fitting for me to express some word of farewell to you—and I could say no more if I were to say goodbye to you one by one. To the graduating class I hope for you all good gifts—your going on with your college work, if that is your dream and plan; or the farm or store or what other place awaits you. To the freshmen I express the wish that you will return to the Junior College next year, with a renewal of the enthusiasm you have shown in your studies and social life this year. And to all of you I wish to add that it has been a pleasure and privilege to have had you on the campus, and to have known you for this while of your impressionable lives. A welcome awaits you whenever you are able to return.

PAUL MEEK.

Miss Caldwell Talks
To Home Ec Class

One of the most interesting meeting of the Home Economics Club was held May 9th in the Home Economics Building. Miss Billie Caldwell, as guest speaker for the evening, spoke on social diseases. Her lecture was most interesting and beneficial. Much interest was aroused among the members of the club and other girls of the school who were invited. Miss Faye Tolley played a piano solo.

After the business was discussed refreshments were served and the meeting was adjourned.

The Home Economics Club has been engaged in various activities this year. The fall quarter we entertained the Ag boys with a wailer roast in the picnic grove. During the winter quarter, the members of the Home Ec Club entertained their dates with a "supper dance." This was the first affair of this type to be given on the campus and proved to be a great success. The spring quarter we acted as hostesses for Leap Week. We enjoyed our regular meetings. Many interesting programs, were given.

The following officers have been elected for next year: President, Fairy Nowell; Vice-President, Jo Young; Secretary, Mildred Pierce; Treasurer, Mildred McIntosh; Reporter, Lelabelle Scruggs; Sponsor, Miss Swindler.

THE VERDICT OF THE JUDGES

This is not the case of a trial but an inter-society contest which was given May 17, at the Martin High School. The judges were Mr. Allen and Mr. Farrar.

The various high schools of the state have literary societies that perform each year. Martin High School has the Craddock and the Malone Societies, which were named for two prominent Tennesseans. Each year the house is filled when this event takes place.

The entire program is very interesting. When the judges were deciding the winning side, the house was tense with excitement. Then came the verdict—the Malones had won. Immediately the house became an uproar of excitement.

The Malones won by a one point lead, for they were winners of the debate and the declamation.

The judges stated that the affirmative debaters ignored the rules of the debate and the negative speakers won by three or four outstanding points. The judges also said that the contest was a very close one.

Mr. Allen declared that Enos Thurmond, the Malones declaimer, and Ann Lynn McKinney, the Craddock reader were the outstanding speakers.

Water Carnival

Plans for the Water Carnival, to be held June 2 at 2:30 p.m., are rapidly getting under way. If one is walking around the gym between 5 and 6 o'clock any afternoon, the splashing of water can be heard as though whales and such are playing inside.

We have all heard the story of "The Three Little Fishes"—if you haven't your ears must have surely been stuffed with cotton. How would you like to see the three little fishes and the mamma fish too? If what they tell us is true, you will see them at the Water Carnival. They will all be there, and their spree from the meadow pool to the sea will be enacted. King Neptune will also be there with all of his subjects to show just how it really should be done. So if you don't want to miss a big thrill, you must be there, too.

Coach
Paul Hug
of U. T.
Junior College

Paul Hug, the new head coach of U. T. Junior and in charge of the physical education department of U. T. Junior College was end coach of football, basketball coach for two years, and director of men's physical education and intramural sports for three years at Southwestern University at Memphis. He is a University of Tennessee man—B. A. 1931, majoring in physical education and minors in math and science. He plans to attend Columbia this summer, beginning his work for the master's degree. In 1931 he coached high school athletics at South Charleston, W. Va.; in 1932 he was coach at Charlotte, Tenn.; from 1933-1935 he was at Battle-ground Academy in Franklin, Tenn., where he married Miss Jane Briggs, daughter of the principal of the academy; in 1935 he was

Mask and Wig Club
To Present Play

The Mask and Wig Club will present the comedy in three acts "Through the Keyhole" on Thursday evening, June 1, at 8:00 p.m.

The play is a $25.00 royalty play, although all persons are being admitted for 10 cents. All students and faculty are urged to attend, and are asked to invite friends.

Dorm Reservations
Show Increase

There are twenty-four reservations in the girls' dormitory at this time, for next year's students, when at the corresponding date last year there was but one. The enrollment of girls last year was seventeen per cent over the previous year, and there is every reason to anticipate a further increase next year, according to Mr. Meek. This prospect is highly gratifying to the college officials.

Scribblers Elect
New Officers

Head Appointed Editor—Pierce
Elected President

The Scribblers Club and The Volette staff held their last meeting Monday night at which time assignments were given out for the last issue of The Volette. At this time it was decided to hold a call meeting Tuesday following assembly for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year. Heretofore officers have not been elected until the beginning of the new session. Those elected are as follows: President, Mildred Pierce, Martin; Vice-President, LaVerne Browne, Paris; Secretary-Treasurer, Ina Tyson, Palmersville; Sergeant at Arms, Wilfred Head, Martin.

Wilfred Head, Martin student, has been appointed editor of The Volette for the fall quarter of this coming year. Wilfred entered into journalistic composition enthusiastically from the beginning of his Freshman year here and has served capably in the capacity of columnist and feature writer throughout the three quarters of the present session. In high school Wilfred received the scholarship medal for making the highest grades during his senior year. His features and book reviews speak for themselves concerning his writing ability. When asked to make a statement for the paper, Mr. Head said, "It leaves me breathless. But seriously, I appreciate the honor." Wilfred has intentions of becoming a librarian, likes English (in which, incidentally, he makes good grades) and is interested in all types of journalistic work. We feel sure that Mr. Kroll has made a wise selection and that next year's paper will reflect the talent and industry of our new editor.

Miss Burney Honored

Miss Mary Vick Burney, librarian of the Junior College, has tendered an honor which is a real distinction to her as well as to the school. Miss Burney has been asked to accept an appointment to represent the junior colleges of the entire United States as a member of one of the sections of the American Library Association. This work would be on the Committee on Budgets, Classification, and Schemes of Service of the American College and Reference Librarians.

The work of this committee would be to meet and confer as often as three times a year for the next two years; and the first meeting, in case Miss Burney accepts, will be held next month in San Francisco.

Miss Burney, in the event of acceptance, would serve with the following nationally known committeemen: Dr. Lewis Round, dean of the graduate library school, of the University of Chicago, representing universities; Dr. Louis Shores, director library school Peabody College, Nashville, representing library schools; and Chas. H. Brown, librarian of Iowa State College, Ames, Iowa, representing colleges; and Miss Burney would represent junior colleges.

The Junior College feels proud of this distinction which has come to it through the library department. We hope that Miss Burney will see fit to accept, even though it will mean a vast amount of work for her, and long and expensive trips.

TENNIS MATCH

The U. T. Junior College tennis teams lost a hard-fought match with Bethel College of McKenzie here Tuesday afternoon, being defeated by the narrow margin of four matches out of seven. In the

GRADUATION EXERCISES BEGIN

Final Program Thursday and Friday

Commencement exercises were officially inaugurated at the U. T. Junior College Sunday, May 28 at 8 p.m. Dr. A. V. Havens delivered the baccalaureate sermon at the First Baptist Church in Martin. Dr. Havens is pastor of the Christian Church at Murray, Ky.

E. B. Stahlman, Jr., noted publisher in the South, and a leader in new industries such as newspaper and economic and political problems, will deliver the commencement address at the gymnasium on Friday, June 2, at 10 o'clock. Mr. Stahlman is secretary-treasurer of the Nashville Banner.

On Thursday evening, June 1 at 8 p.m. the three-act comedy, Through the Keyhole, will be presented by the Mask and Wig Dramatic Club, under the direction of Miss Hill. The price of admission will be 10 cents and all seats are reserved, without extra charge.

The awards of certificates to the graduating class, and of honors to outstanding students will be made by Mr. Meek.

Friday afternoon, June 2 at 2:30 o'clock the water carnival will be held in the gym under auspices of the physical education department. In the early evening a candle-lighting, the beautiful and distinctive ceremonial of Aloha Oe will be held in the campus oval, with Professor Earl Knepp and the graduating class.

Following this event, at 9 o'clock the All Students Club will have alumni finals with a dance in the gym.

Executive Officer
Speaks At C. H. S.
Closing Exercises

Paul Meek, executive officer, journeyed to Chattanooga, where he delivered the commencement address to 350 graduates. Mr. Meek was introduced by Creed F. Bates, principal of the Chattanooga High School. Mr. Meek told the 350 graduates that they will "have a hand in bringing about an ideal for American democracy, the equalization of educational opportunity." Mr. Meek questioned whether it is "fair to offer in one part of Tennessee six times as much" educational as in another part, and "in another state to offer six times as much as in Tennessee."

"It is a national asset," he said, "to educate our people wherever we find them."

Speaking on the subject, "New Frontiers," Mr. Meek said the geographical frontier is gone, but he listed among the new frontiers the "frontier of freedom, the spiritual awakening." On this frontier he told the graduates, "You have the opportunity to think straight. To keep your own convictions, to set your own worship standards, to be an asset to the people of your community."

Mr. Meek said that on the frontier of society "social responsibility has become a new concept for our people."

Pointing out that there are in the United States more than 1,000 organizations engaged in social work of which forty-five are federal governmental, 351 are national private, 573 are state and public, and 51 are state private—Mr. Meek said, "A new day is dawning for our people in the conception of responsibility for society as a whole."

The Mask and Wig Club wishes to thank Weakley County Press for graciously furnishing the posters and tickets for this play "Through the Keyhole."

WORK TO DO

Not so long ago we ran an editorial on Cooperation. We hope you took our advice, for it is this asset that we need, especially around Commencement time. About half of us are graduating; the rest of us will be helping to put this annual event over, and, last, but not least, all of us will be taking final exams. Besides these exhaustive necessities, there is the water carnival, the commencement play, the finals, and all the events that celebrate the termination of the school year. We've spent time, thought and money on this school year. As a result, we have all emerged a little wiser (if, in some instances, a little sadder). At any rate, every one of us has improved to some degree since the beginning of the year. Now we want to show those who have sacrificed for us what we have accomplished. We also want to sponsor final events that will give us something to remember when we go on from here; a sort of a symbol to stand for all the heartaches and happiness that we have met with at U. T. J. C. It's OUR Commencement, students, and there's work to do! So let's all pitch in and make it the best ever!

SUCH SWEET SORROW

That's what parting has been called and rightly. But it is all this and more too! Within only a short while the session of '38-'39 will have come to a close. The realization of pending separation emphasized by the impressive commencement exercises incites in the average student a more appreciative attitude of the Alma Mater than is ordinarily manifested. Things heretofore taken for granted take on a new meaning when it becomes apparent that they will no longer be an integral part of our daily lives. Meditation concerning the question mark, Future, follows; then more meditation concerning that exclamation point, Past. It is in this frame of mind that we become aware of the opportunities we did not take advantage of. We are likely to be reminded of Whittier's stanzas:

"For of all sad words of tongue or pen
The saddest are these 'It might have been!'"

When we are experiencing this attitude we are being educated as much as we are in any professor's class room. This experience will teach us to make the most of the future. Such experience is just as profitable to the Freshmen as it is to those receiving certificates. It is one of the lessons of life; the more one knows, the more he realizes he doesn't know and this realization goes far toward building character. What the past has taught us will largely determine what we will make of our future.

Natchez Trace Outing

On May 13th the All Students Club, composed of the entire student body and faculty, journeyed to Natchez Trace for an annual outing, which was to last from 1:30 p.m. until 11:30 p.m. The attendance was almost 100 per cent with only a few exceptions.

The money for this was obtained mostly from the show tickets the college students bought. About 50 boats were available all the afternoon for boat riding on the lake.

At 5:30 o'clock supper was served, which was composed of potato chips, barbecue sandwiches, cookies, coca colas, lemonade and pickles.

After this, since boat riding was stopped for two hours, almost everybody went to the club house and danced. The "dipsy doodle" was even revived from last year's popular songs.

At 10:30 p.m. everyone started home and the ones that did not get lost and wander around and around in the park, arrived home by 11:30, but the others were delayed until around 12:30 p.m.

Hot Air From The Shower Room

By FRANCES KINTON

In another week the splashing of showers in the old U. T. J. C. gym will be a thing of the past and my two years here will be only very dear memories. I am sure that all those girls who are now preparing to leave college for the last time feel that the sports activities in which they have participated rank very high among the highlights of their Junior College career.

The horseshoe, golf and archery tournaments are the last to be played off and they are well under way now. Garner is showing up well in archery and Lee is taking the lead again in the horseshoe tournament. At present Clark is one of the most outstanding golfers, however, more of these sports yet have a winner, so we'll have to wait until another time to find out who is really the best.

A girls' tennis team from our college has had two meets with the Paducah Junior College tennis team. The first matches were played on our courts with Thurmond, Reed, Kinton, Lee, Higgs and Garner representing our college. One week later Garner, Higgs, Reed, Thurmond and Webb went to Paducah to play.

Virginia Webb is the badminton champion for the season. She beat Milly Reed after hours and hours of hard playing. The match was one of the most evenly matched one could imagine, both girls playing an excellent game.

Of course, we are all interested in the swimming meet. The freshmen, represented by Webb, won first in the dash, with the Sophomores, represented by Reed, coming second. Higgs, Sophomore, won the side stroke for form, with Jackson, Freshman, winning second. The Freshman relay team won first.

Higgs and Robertson, representing the Sophomore and Freshman classes, respectively, vied for the shuffleboard championship. Higgs winning over Robertson by a small margin after playing for five hours on five games.

Ferdinand On The Campus Just a Lot of Bull

Twilight Strollers: Estie and Nix, Clendenin and Meacham, Ruth L. and Willie S., Ruth and "Red" Cochran, Mary Frances and Moon.

We'd like to find out the secret of "Short's" all-time cheerfulness? It ain't love is it, Short?

Is "Mush" making a come-back with Evelyn Kirk? The three blind mice aren't so blind as you think!

The Lily-Patience romance has apparently blossomed again. 'Tis rumored she has a date with him for finals.

Well, Polly, wonder how "Taters" would like Decatur County?

No, it isn't the Dog Patch romance of Lil Abner and Daisy May; it's Lil Almer and Mary Emma!

Have you heard about "Red" Higgs' tennis? It seems she's only losing love sets now.

It seems that Ruth Erwin's decided she wants a dog. What's a Hayes? Slipping?

They say Nathan kinda got dramatic in inscribing Mary James' annual—and not so long ago they were saying he was bashful!

Monis seems to be making up for all that time Christine hasn't been staying over.

We don't know about the "cheeks of tan" but the rain last week brought forth the campus "barefoot boys"! (Note: Cute's the word!)

Any campus couples desiring a chauffeur on Sunday nights (and incidentally a car, too) should apply to H. N. Moore.

Who wouldn't like to be one of the "Naughty Nine" if you could get three large bags of popcorn and barbecue sandwiches brought up to your room?

Pretty efficient, eh Griffin, Glover, Baker and McIntosh?

Where is it that a young man's fancy is supposed to turn—come the warm nights, pale moonlight, and honeysuckle? What's the matter, Joe Overton, Harold Webb and Mayo?

Bet you didn't know Jimmie Pigue was bashful! Neither did we until we snooped in on "Through the Keyhole" practice! Woo hoo!

'Tis whispered around that "Glad" had a date Saturday night. She staunchly denies it, however.

And Mary Frances has a "heart throb" in Honolulu! How's about the grass skirt, Daisy Mae? We'd like a demonstration, maybe (?)

The other day at lunch the mice snooped in on Mary Simmons' singing. We kinda liked it. Where have you been all year, Mary?

Newest clique on the campus: Burton-Hodges, Askew-Woodard, Covington-"Smitty" and Lewis-Tate.

And Leeth has a sudden (or is it?) desire to attend summer school! If there's any connection—it seems that Jesse Frank has ideas about the next six weeks, too!

Mystery Department: Sarah Dean and "Duck" Rye surely do hang around together a lot. What we want to know is—what happened to Strasser?

Wanted! More cars in front of the administration building! We don't wonder that Billie and Hafford get tired of sitting in the same ones all the time.

So "Buttermilk" Phillips has been visiting the Gardner House! What did you say, Sarah Helen?

Passmore has definitely turned out to be a "bathub soprano." She entertains the dorm girls every night with select arias from French composers.

What with all the sweet and flowery speeches being so delicately composed and as delicately written in all the annuals, you'd think Ferdinand's interest in campus gossip would lag—but not Ferdinand's! He just sends out his snooty, little mice who (as usual) drag in the dirtiest dirt on the campus! Here's the scandal you were waiting for!

AT NATCHEZ TRACE—

Choice tid bits sniffed by the mice at the annual outing: . . . "Casanova" with the little blonde dame from the library . . . "Brain-trust" Travels and "Ditto" Cunningham boat riding "If it rains, who cares? For . . ." . . . Mary Frances Bolton, and a bit of hill climbing . . . Miss U. T. J. C. and Bill "Cuddles" Fitts . . . Mr. U. T. T. J. and Frances Jeter . . . Then, of course, there was Bedford and the Martinite, while Jo Glover and Jon "Foo" Griffin rode in style. Even the "General" was seen following a dame around (who is the Mystery Woman, Lumpkin?) . . . Surprise of all surprises: Nash with Hardin, and Jimmy Pigue with Laura Burrus! (Again, stoop-dunks, you can't fool the mice!) . . . The inseparables, Pierce and Tyson having a swell time! . . . A lot of new combinations were noticed with unusual interest by the sniffing mice, which combinations will very likely be revealed soon (The mice can't be bribed!)

ON THE CAMPUS—

Osborne says she'll still like Martin next year. Baker or Tennessee, Anita?

Potential inventor on the campus: John Finch. He'll be famous yes!

Before the Natchez picnic, Turner sang, "I get along without you very well," but we couldn't help hear her singing "You Look Good To Me" when she came back! Between verses she'd subtly mention Paschall's name, too.

Elizabeth Mitchell and Norman Carroll—conscientious mugology lab partners, or had you noticed?

The Gardner House seems to have attractions for Appleton, too. (Explanatory Note: A new blonde has moved in!)

Sarah Helen is such a problem child. She can't seem to decide between Hurst, Big Flabby, Wayne or Mac? How does she rate so many?

We think Kathryn would sorta like to visit Canada now that Hodges is going.

Mooring-Covington-Smith. Is it a triangle?

Joe Hadley doesn't go around so much, but he certainly does get long, "sincere" letters from Middle Tennessee! Was the Lambuth affair just a passing infatuation, "Bolivar"?

SINCE LAST ISSUE—

"Duck" Rye and Mary Bonnie Dodd found that romance is wonderful—and what did Porter say?

We notice that Evelyn Kirk took quite a fancy to late afternoon golfing. Wasn't a new Ford, was it Evelyn?

FERDINAND'S FAREWELL—

Just because school will soon be out and you courtin' lads and lassies won't forget that Ferdinand's three blind mice will be around (and we do mean around!) and we'll still be snooping on you!

Soph: "Between you and me, what do you think of Jack's girl?"
Frosh: "Between you and me, not much, but alone—oh, boy!"—Exchange.

Boyibus kissibus sweeta gallorum, Girlibus likibus wanta someorum, Poppibus seelibus, spanka gallorum Kickabus boyibus out backdorum.

Now I sit me down to cram,
To study for this darn exam,
And if I cannot learn this junk
I pray the Lord I still won't stunk.
—Clairborian.

ODE TO COVINGTON

He who hath a chance to Join hands with a likely Lady will, to my experience, Achieve all the beauties Of life.

True symptoms are some Times mistaken for small doggy love. One symptom is One who mooneth, and if you Should see a young man Seath in the rain you can Be sure he seeth for nothing For is his heart not in a Troubled mood, and is his Mind not in a troubled Mood. And is his mind not Thirgeth of his maiden's Welfare. Perhaps, however, He who's soul lacketh love Will find it not very Appetizing a setting in The drizzle. —C. E. Smith

Campus Caricatures

The first day he walked into history class, winter quarter, he was a sensation, a wow!—because—well, he's got red hair! And he was a new and very talented student—talented (?) as a poet! (Poetry writing occupied all of his history hours.)

Now spends most of his time on the golf links and very good he is as a goffer, too! He spends lots of time helping Jimmy look for lost golf balls, too, we've noticed—but if you've noticed, he doesn't seem to mind.

Most of the lads and lassies with tennis inclinations don't appreciate him as they should; he keeps the courts in good condition they're always in—and he's the guy who runs you off the courts at night so's he can take down the nets. Tactfully, though. He always reminds you how easily tennis balls can be lost in the dark! Basketball ability . . . a swell personality . . . wit . . . industry (?) . . . popularity. They are all attributes of one student! Who is he?

TENNIS MATCH

singles. Bill Fitts, No. 1 man of UTJC, defeated Howard Walton, and David Parrish defeated Courtney Burroughs, while Kenner, Williams, and Clinard of Bethel, won from Bond, Smith and Wright, respectively. In the doubles, Bond and Fitts won from Walton and Clinard, while Wright and Moore lost to Kenner and Williams. Bethel's second team. In a former match at Bethel a short time ago, the U. T. Junior College team won; hence the two colleges now stand even.

Ag Club Meeting

The Ag Club met for the last meeting of the quarter on May 11. This meeting was primarily for the election of officers for next year, but some unfinished business of the club was also completed. A motion was made and seconded to hold over the appropriation that had been made for the purpose of buying shrubs so that it would be available for working capital for the Barnwarmin', with the suggestion that the club of next year spent an equal amount for landscaping.

President Todd made a brief farewell address, in which he suggested that the following points be inaugurated in the rules for next year:

1. Require all members to pay dues for all quarters that they had been in school before attending the Spring social.
2. Have a voting membership. Require members to attend at least two-thirds of all meetings before they are able to vote in elections.
3. Work out the programs for each quarter in advance so that good speakers could be obtained and a definite object could be worked toward.

Short talks were made by Mr. Knepp and Mr. McMahon in which they complimented the clubs and its present officers on the work that they had done this year.

Officers were then elected for next year. They are as follows: President, Billy Dick Brown; Vice-President, Fred Powell; Secretary-Treasurer, Frank Nix; Reporter, Toby Cain; Sergeant-at-Arms, John Kelley. Each of the officers speech before the club was addressed made a short acceptance journey.

WILLSON COUNTRY LIFE ELECTS OFFICERS

The Willson Country Life Club met Monday night for the purpose of electing officers for the fall quarter next year. The following were elected: President, Fred Powell; Vice-President, Clifton Luttrell; Secretary and Treasurer, Jo Young; Sergeant-at-Arms, Joe Thompson; Reporter, Sara Strong.

Although our club has been very successful this year, we hope to make it a bigger and much better one next year.

AG CLUB ELECTION

The regular spring election of officers for next year's Ag Club was held Thursday evening, bringing this year's activities to a successful close. The officers chosen are well representative of the various sections of the state. Those elected were as follows: President, Billy Dick Brown of Gallatin; Vice-President, Fred Powell of Dyersburg; Secretary-Treasurer, Franklin Nix of Trenton; Reporter, Troy Cain of Holladay, and Sergeant-at-Arms, John (Peacock) Kelley of Covington. All officers are chosen from the freshmen class, i.e., next year's sophomore class. The '38-39 Ag Club had in excess of 85 members, and has been one of the most active organizations on the campus. Much of their success has been due to the excellent leadership of the president, Donald Todd of Elgin, with the splendid cooperation of all members.

Joe Black Hayes, Murfreesboro boy and former captain and guard of the 1937 Tennessee football team, has been appointed assistant coach at the University of Tennessee Junior College, Martin. Joe Black Hayes has been a very, very outstanding man on the University of Tennessee campus. Joe performed on the football, wrestling and track teams, while he was very closely connected with many University organizations. He was especially interested in the work of the University Y. M. C. A. and served on the Tennessee Athletic Council as a student member.—Jack Joyner, U. T.

SOCIETY

Student Marriage

The announcement of the marriage of Mary Florence Sampson of Milan, to James Claxton Legg of Martin, came as a surprise to their many friends. Although the wedding took place on February 19, 1939, it was not revealed until this week. The couple will make their home in Martin, where Mr. Legg is employed by Kroger's Grocery Store. Mrs. Legg will continue her sophomore year in college and will serve as associate editor of The Volette for the fall quarter. Best Wishes Mary and James.

Miss Cannon Reelected President Martin Branch A. A. U. W.

At their last monthly meeting at the Home Economics Building of Junior College, on Friday, May 12, the local chapter of the American Association of University Women unanimously reelected Miss Helen Cannon as president for next year.

Miss Cannon, instructor in art, textiles and clothing at the Junior College, is a very capable and efficient leader. The confidence and respect of her fellow club members, and the esteem in which she is held by her co-workers was manifested when they reelected her to serve in the capacity of president for a second term.

Miss Addie Lou Brooks was elected secretary to succeed Mrs. Alice Davies, who had served the constitutional limit of four years.

Nu Kappa Nu Party

The Nu Kappa Nu enjoyed a 'farewell party' on Thursday evening. The occasion was the last meeting of the club for this year. Mary Louise Gladish served as hostess to the group.

The spacious living room of the girls' dormitory was decorated with beautiful cut flowers and beautifully lighted with candles.

After lovely refreshments consisting of cake, brick ice cream and mints were served, the group enjoyed a "talent program" which included all girls in the dorm who had any outstanding ability for music or dramatics. Mrs. Reed gave the "farewell" and was answered by impromptu speeches made by the Sophomores.

Miss Faye Tolley has been elected president for school year of 1939-40; Miss Dorothy Wash, secretary-treasurer.

Fashion Show

The Fashion Show sponsored by the Freshman Home Economics students of U. T. Junior College, will be given on Tuesday night, May 30th, at 8 o'clock in the court of the Home Economics Building.

About seventy-five school, sport, street and evening dresses of cotton, linen, silk and rayon will be modeled. All the dresses shown will be modeled by the maker. A few children's clothes made by the sophomore students will also be shown.

Misses Ruth Williams, Corinne Davis and Sara Strong, freshmen students, have charge of the show.

The program will be announced by Miss Frances Kinton, a sophomore. Mr. O. T. Parrish will have charge of the music and Harry Kroll, Jr., will be in charge of the lighting effects.

The public is cordially invited.

Jackson House Trip To Reelfoot Lake

On Saturday afternoon at 1:30 the students who have been taking their meals with Mrs. Jackson enjoyed a delightful outing on Reelfoot Lake. Promptly on the hour set they met in a body at the Jackson house on University, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jackson.

A most enjoyable afternoon was spent in fishing, swimming, boat riding and dancing. Although some of us were caught in the rain we did not let this stop us from having an enjoyable time. After a picnic supper was served, dancing was enjoyed until around 9 o'clock. We arrived home at about 10:30.

Those who enjoyed this hospitality were: Lee Mayo, Ruby Nell Stroud, Red Goff, Sara Helen Wheatley, Willard Heathcock, Elizabeth Elam, Hugh Houston, Christine Corum, Martin Baker, Mildred McIntosh, Martin Griffin, Rachel McClain, Mush Tidwell, Martha Higgs, Huck Melton, Paula Thompson, Flabby Phillips, Sabella Jackson, Howard Hayes, Ruth Erwin, Casey Stephenson, Nolan Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Spurling, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Jackson. Several who were unable to go for the afternoon came later and enjoyed the dancing.

Library Chatter

For the last time (maybe) this columnist (?) pens his disjointed thoughts . . . However, it has really been fun writing all this trivial chatter and here's hoping that someone has read it . . . The library has been the scene of busy activity for the past week or so. Scores of pupils (like myself) have at long last decided to make up by cramming what they just happened to overlook the first portion of the quarter . . . Such brain work leaves but little time for recreational reading, but, nevertheless, may we offer a few suggestions for warm weather reading . . . According to popularity ratings, Edna Ferber's autobiography, A PECULIAR TREASURE, should head the list . . . For several weeks, this "story of an American Jewish family in the past half-century" has been near "tops" in the non-fiction lists of best sellers . . . To quote the blurb on the book's jacket: "It is an important human record and an exciting narrative but its overtones are even greater. It is a powerful defense of democracy and a passionate cry for freedom." One might also add that it is written in the easy reading style which has made Miss Ferber's novels such as SHOW BOAT AND CIMARRON so famous . . . Another book which promises to become very important is REACHING FOR THE STARS by Nora Waln . . . It is "a dramatic and compassionate record of four years spent in Germany" . . . During the time which the author and her husband lived in Germany, she was unable to get the "low down" on the German situation for which she paints a very bleak picture.

The critics, including Miss Dorothy Thompson, who is likewise an authority on Hitlerized Germany, acclaim the book as being very worthy and as being written without bitterness or malice . . . It makes a sincere attempt at interpretation of Hitler's nationalistic ambitions which are so in contrast, we find, with the natural deep-hearted tenderness of the German people . . . Well worth the time spent in reading it . . . Still another book of non-fiction is one of interest to every Tennessean . . . It is the "story of the people and power" along GOD'S VALLEY otherwise known as the Tennessee Valley . . . This book is a grand human document of our times in that it tells how the people of this region are being rehabilitated and "reclaimed" as well as the natural resources which have gone to waste . . . Due to the work of the T.V.A., the Tennessee Valley is again reclaiming the former title, "The smiling dimple of the universe" . . . Mark this down as a "must" book on your reading list . . . Whether or not all women are interested in the sociological problems as presented in the Tennessee Valley, it would not be far wrong to say that all of them are interested in improving their charm and personality . . . If it be true, all women should read the new addition to the library entitled, BETTER THAN BEAUTY, A GUIDE TO CHARM . . . The publishers state "you may not look like a toothpaste ad, but you can be twice as popular as your beautiful girl friend if you understand what underlies the most important attribute of charm" . . . Common sense advice is offered on how to be attractive, how to camouflage your defects, and dramatize your good points—In short, how to be charming . . . For the poetry-minded person, there is a new anthology of poems by children entitled SINGING YOUTH . . . Though one may be inclined to scoff at the efforts at creative writing by youth of grade and high school level, the book is well written and highly satisfying . . . Who knows there may be a future Sara Teasdale or Robert Frost in the bunch . . . So Auf Wiedersehen. The Bookworm.

LARGEST U. T. CLASS TO RECEIVE DEGREES

Knoxville The University of Tennessee will give degrees to approximately 450 students in the U. T. Memorial Auditorium at 10 a.m., June 5. It is the largest graduating class in the history of the university.

Preceding graduation exercises, President J. D. Hoskins will hold a reception for all seniors and their parents in the Tyson Center, at 3 p.m., Sunday, June 4. The baccalaureate sermon, delivered by Dr. Charles L. Seaboles, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Dayton, Ohio, will be given at 8 p.m., June 4. President Hoskins will confer degrees. There are 425 candidates for the Bachelor's degree and 25 candidates for the Master's.

U. T. STUDENT REMOVES NICOTINE FROM TOBACCO

Knoxville—A University of Tennessee graduate student has developed a process for "denicotinizing" tobacco. The student, William D. Morgan, Jr., of Maryville, performed the chemical research in preparing his Master's thesis on "The Denicotinization of Tobacco."

Using two types of tobacco, Burley F-L and Virginia Bright-FA, Mr. Morgan reduced the nicotine content of both types to one-half of one per cent or less. Burley contains from two and one-third to three and one-half per cent nicotine.

"The aim of the investigation was to reduce the nicotine content to one per cent or less, economically and without greatly impairing its color, aroma, taste, and other desirable properties," said Mr. Morgan. "In general, the resulting product of both types of tobacco possessed less aroma and was somewhat milder to the taste."
